Mr Phill

These will see you through. I use these directly to combat and overcome natural clutter.

Started buying these 11 months ago right here , the first one worked well, excellent product. I will continue to purchase these as they have never let me down recording my flight data or just general transmitting for raw footage. One thing to consider, how much range you get will directly depend on clutter and topography. Trees houses power lines etc and hilly or flatland. ..They really do work very well .

Take any action camera that has working video out while filming, get the right USB adapter, and connect it to this transmitter, to get quality FPV well over 1500 feet away. It has a 7-12V input and has 5V out to run your camera, no internal camera battery needed. Just remember that you have to stop and start recording while the RC model's battery is connected, or you will lose you footage.

Good Item, works perfect

January 29, 2018

Verified Purchase

Good Item, works perfect. Large buttons to change channels quickly, fits in my 220mm quad with plenty of room. Provides excellent signal and range at least 2 miles. Can leave this powered on with no heat issues like the little compact version that require airflow. Would definitely buy another one when I build a new FPV vehicle. Seller was fast to ship and sent a courtesy email to make sure product is working.
